

Welcome to the Palouse--home of the Cougars and Vandals!

The heart of the Palouse beats in Pullman, at the junction of US Highway 195 and State Route 27 near the Idaho border, and that heart is Washington State University. Established in 1892, WSU is where more than 18,000 die-hard Cougars live during the academic year. Just a few miles up the road lies the University of Idaho, ranked one of the top national universities by U.S. News and World Reports, and one of the best values in higher education by Princeton Review. Whether seeking fishing and canoeing in the pristine Palouse region, or the roar of a Cougar football game, you can find it in the Pullman-Moscow region.
